Amie NiEtta was born October 26, 1974. Amie was named by her sister Lynn and her mother. Lynn gave her the first name Amie and I gave her the middle name NiEtta after her Great Grandmother Mary NiEtta Oberlin.

When these pictures were taken, we lived at 815 North Main Street, Auburn Indiana. Amie's Baptism was at St. Mark's Lutheran Church, December 15, 1974.

Amie wore her sister Lynn's Baptism dress that she had worn when she was baptized. Lynn was 12 years old, I was 40 years old and Amie was 7 weeks old when s was baptized.

The above pictures of our immediate family the day of Amie's Baptism.

St. Mark's Nursery School.

Amie—4 years old at St. Mark's Lutheran Nursery School 1978-1979. The photographer must have done something that irritated her as you can see by the disgust on her face. The rest of the children were also disgusted.⁵⁷ Everyone's picture was a "frowny" one.

These pictures were taken on the first day of school, September 1981. Both Amie and Valarie Fairchild are in the first grade at McIntosh Grade School. The picture was taken on Valarie's back porch. Both girls were almost 7 years old. Valarie was born October 25, 1974 and Amie was born October 26, 1974. The lady in the picture is Lola Fairchild, Valarie's mother.

DEKALB COUNTY CENTRAL UNITED SCHOOL DISTRICT

DEKALB MIDDLE SCHOOL
DEPARTMENT OF BANDS

January 17, 1986

Dear Parent:

Recently all fifth grade students in the DeKalb Central United School District were given the Selmer Music Guidance Survey. This tests their ability to distinguish differences in pitch, chords, melodies, and rhythms.

As you consider your child's interest in music, please evaluate the following statement:

"The child who learns to play an instrument learns discipline, learns cooperation with others, learns a new way to a fuller, richer life. An instrument puts him/her into worthwhile school activities. It keeps him/her off the street. It gives him/her something interesting, pleasurable, and profitable to do during his/her leisure time."

During the first two weeks of school next fall the students will be trying out the various instruments. If a student has his/her own instrument, we will be glad to evaluate the condition and make a recommendation. There is a rental program available to students that do not have their own instrument.

Your child Amie Springer scored 108.

Key to scoring:

110 to 120	SUPERIOR
100 to 108	EXCELLENT
90 to 98	VERY GOOD
80 to 88	GOOD
70 to 78	FAIR - will possibly have problems

If below 70 and the student wishes to start in band, student should be tested again. This test does not measure DESIRE, and this is very important.

Thank you! We remain,

Musically yours,
Kevin Campbell and Richard Norris

Proposed youth center location is perfect

To the editor:

I am writing in response to a 3-2 vote against the Power House Youth Center proposed for the former church at 214 W. Sixth St. in Auburn. I just think it is such a shame that the decision-makers and homeowners, people who have lived in Auburn most all of their lives, don't have any more faith in the kids of Auburn. They are also citizens of this city and quite possibly the future of Auburn. Certainly most of the people who grew up in Auburn can remember the years of your adolescence and the good times that you shared at the "Y Canteen" in the basement of the YMCA so many years ago. Many years later, they moved an entire house to accommodate parking. Now days, Auburn doesn't even have a movie theater. Besides the Skatin' Station, which accommodates our youth very well, what other positive, low-cost alternatives or activities are there for kids who live in Auburn?

I would like to know who exactly the homeowners are referring to when they talk about "those kids" who don't have any respect for other people's property. That is an outrageous and unfounded statement about the youth of our fine city and just adds to the angst, misunderstanding and negativity that kids now days are trying to escape from. We shouldn't act older than our years and we should all keep in mind that this project is a positive thing for the youth of Auburn and not a place where criminal behavior is tolerated.

I do agree with the board that Power House representatives should have spoken with the neighbors. It is a courtesy that they could have extended to the homeowners to maybe ease their concerns. I am sure that in the future, Power House will keep in mind how important it is to have open lines of communication with their

As for the parking situation, I think that there are many alternatives to this small dilemma. What did the congregation of that church do about parking when it was an active church? What did the senior citizens of Auburn do about parking when the church was the Heimach senior citizen center of Auburn? Did the senior citizens have these obstacles to fight? There is certainly irony here. What about all of the staff, customers and patrons who visited the Cupbearer Coffee house and Heavenly Treasures? What did they do when it came time to park their cars? I will tell you what they did: They parked up and down historical Jackson Street, they parked on Sixth Street where Cricket's Tavern patrons park, as well. I would even go as far as to say that some of those folks walked or got a ride from a friend or loved one. What about all of the empty parking lots there are around that area on a Friday night? Whatever happened to carpooling? The ideas are almost endless.

It seems to me as if Peoples Federal Bank could somehow chip in as far as possibly donating their new parking lot once a week for one year or until another alternative is found. I realize that there might be red tape when it comes to that idea, with insurance reasons I am sure, however that might redeem the bank's reputation in the eyes of the citizens of Auburn who are still upset about the beautiful, old trees that were sacrificed for that lot.

There is a win-win situation to be had here.

Look, the streets of Auburn being lined with cars on a Friday night is a small price to pay for the positive influence that these kids will experience and carry through life. Let us try not to put up obstacles and block the path, but rather work together to clear a path for kids of Auburn to stay out of trouble. We have a young man, Nathan the youth of Auburn and young enough himself for kids to identify with. Finally! The location of this youth center is perfect, right in the heart of Auburn. Backyard or not, the police station is three blocks away. That should ease the minds of the homeowners who are afraid that the youth will be unruly. Maybe Power House could give the police a schedule of activities on a monthly basis, so the police can be aware of what is going on in that neighborhood and be on alert.

Listen, we don't live in South Central Los Angeles. Certainly the youth of Auburn aren't all deviant criminals who are out to get unsuspecting homeowners, so let's just put our trust into these young citizens and give them a chance to prove themselves and give back to their community.

Good luck for a positive future for the young citizens of Auburn, whose interest is for the best.

ODE TO DIETS

For a year & a half I've tried to lose weight but nothing seems to work, the fat kept up behind me, it almost seemed to curl.

Fat is ugly, so they say & I agree with that. I went on crash diets, stopped eating & more & all I come up with is fat.

I feel like I failed & let myself down, I couldn't get into this outfit I found. I am fat, I'm a tub, through the hallway I pass, my hips are giant & so is my ass!

Why can't I lose weight? why can't I be lean? Does it run in my family or ~~is~~ it my genes? I've cried & I've cried & I lie when I cheat, I feel so damn helpless, as if in defeat.

My mind cries out Good while my heart cries out Stop if you keep eating you just might pop!

The hunger won't stop, the hunger won't end, I find it hard to reach down & bend. I'm over weight, I won't lie about that, I how I'd love for my stomach to be flat, flat, flat.

If dreams never end & wishes come true, why do I feel like an elephant or side show at the zoo?

I want to lose weight,
the desire is there, I want to get rid of my big derrier.

God if your up there please keep me now - I'm slipping, I'm drowning, I'm becoming a cow.

I LOVE YOU

DAVID ROHM LOSES IN FIGHT FOR LIFE

Funeral for Auburn Young Man, who Died Sunday from In- juries in Auto Accident, to be Held Tuesday

Funeral services for David Lisle Rohm, 20-year-old Auburn youth who lost his fight for life from injuries received July 3 in a traffic accident that occurred west of Auburn, will be conducted at 2 p. m. Tuesday.

David, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ford Rohm of 349 West Eleventh street, Auburn, died in the St. Joseph's hospital at Fort Wayne at 10:25 a. m. Sunday. He died from a compound skull fracture.

Tuesday's services will be conducted in the St. Mark's Lutheran church in Auburn with the pastor, Rev. Allen K. Trout, officiating. Burial will be in Woodlawn cemetery.

The body of the youth was brought to the Gerig funeral home in Auburn Sunday morning and will remain until shortly before noon Tuesday when it will be taken to the church to lie in state until the hour of services.

David, a graduate of the Auburn high school in 1948 and a left tackle on the school's football team for three years, was critically injured a week before his death when the automobile in which he was riding crashed into a bridge rail and abutment on U. S. 27 two miles west of Auburn.

The driver of the car, 20-year-old Vernon Scott of Auburn, told investigating officers that he lost control when a tire blew out. Scott is recovering from injuries in the Dr. Bonnell M. Souder hospital in Auburn. His condition Monday was reported as "good."

The youths were testing a new carburetor on Scott's car when the fatal crash occurred. They were brought to the local hospital after the mishap. Young Rohm was moved to the hospital at Fort Wayne last Tuesday. An emergency operation was performed Tuesday night in an effort to relieve pressure caused by the skull fracture.

Unconscious Until Death

He was unconscious from the time of the accident until his death. In addition to the skull fracture, he sustained compound fractures of the left ankle and left hip, a broken right arm and deep cuts on his head.

The youth was a lifelong resident of Auburn. He was born March 9, 1929. Before the accident, he was employed as an apprentice pressman at the Messenger Corporation in Auburn. He was a member of the St. Mark's Lutheran church of Auburn where he served as an usher.

Surviving, besides the parents, is a sister, Joyce, 14.

Twenty-year-old David Lisle Rohm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ford Rohm of 349 West Eleventh street, Auburn, was buried Tuesday afternoon in Woodlawn cemetery following final rites conducted at 2 p. m. The services were held in the St. Mark's Lutheran church with Rev. Allen K. Trout, pastor of the church, officiating. The body was taken to the church Tuesday noon from the Gerig funeral home in the city. David died at 10:25 a. m. Sunday in St. Joseph's hospital at Fort Wayne from injuries received July 3 in a traffic accident that occurred west of Auburn on U. S. 27.

DAVE KURTZ

Couple find dog after 18-day ordeal

AUBURN — Carpet-layers left the gate open in Todd and Amie Bauman's yard on July 5, allowing their two small dogs to escape.

Spike, a Chihuahua-terrier mix, came back right away.

Ginger, a 5-year-old miniature pinscher, took off on an 18-day adventure before returning home safely when an Auburn woman found her Saturday.

Fireworks in the neighborhood may have frightened Ginger on the night she disappeared, Amie Bauman said.

"I think that's why she ran, and I believe she hid ... because we had people canvassing the neighborhoods," she said.

The search continued for nearly three weeks, putting a small army on Ginger's elusive trail.

The Baumans wrote letters to the editor, made announcements on the radio and tacked up posters on utility poles. They recruited the DeKalb Animal Shelter to help.

Amie Bauman used e-mail to keep a network of friends alerted to Ginger's plight. She drove Auburn's streets before and after work and during her lunch breaks. On a regular basis, people called to tell the Baumans they had spotted their little dog.

The Baumans knew Ginger was a survivor, after her tough start in life. The couple bought her from a breeder in Michigan, not knowing they would find what Amie Bauman describes as a "puppy mill" when they arrived to pick her up.

New puppies overran the dilapidated home where Ginger was born.

"I was the most horrible thing I'd ever seen," Amie Bauman said. "Ginger's mother had had so many litters of puppies that her belly was dragging on the ground."

Ginger was missing three of her four toes on one back foot and lacked one toe on the other.

Moving to the Baumans' home, "She went from rags to riches and we just spoiled her," Amie Bauman said. "She was always an inside dog."

Eight days after Ginger's outdoor episode began, the Baumans caught up with her near the horse barns on the DeKalb County Fairgrounds.

We got within 3 feet of her. She was just scared to death, and she spooked and ran ... so my heart was broken again," Amie Bauman said.

At that point, "The police went above and beyond," she said. They loaned the Baumans a live trap to place at the fairgrounds, but to no avail.

"I had honestly resigned myself to stop canvassing," Amie Bauman said, when good news finally came Saturday evening.

"It happened when you least expected it," Todd Bauman interjected.

Retired kindergarten teacher Dorothy Post was sitting down to supper in her home on the city's east side, nearly a mile from the Bauman's home.

"I looked out in the backyard, and there's a little dog," Post said. "It was terrified of me."

Ginger ran from Post and hid under a trailer next to her neighbor's barn.

"We did everything to coax it out, and we just frightened it," Post said. Her husband, Paul, remembered seeing a flyer about a lost dog. Dorothy jumped in her car and drove until she found one of the Baumans' posters with the couple's phone number.

Amie Bauman didn't let Ginger get away again.

"As soon as she got down on her hands and knees and talked baby talk, it came right out to her," Mrs. Post said.

"She was crying so hard, she could hardly get in the car. I was so happy for them, I cried, too."

Ginger returned home to a greeting of warm blankets and hugs.

"She's healthy. She has no adverse side-effects at all," Amie Bauman said. "She was plump enough that I think she survived off her fat storage." Ginger dropped from 18 to 12 pounds while roaming Auburn's streets.

"She's stronger than I thought she was," Amie Bauman said of her dog. But after 18 days on the lam, Ginger had become easier to catch.

"The back pads of her feet were just blistered, and she couldn't walk anymore," she said.

By Thursday, Ginger was showing plenty of energy, however.

"It was just 18 days of hell for us," Amie Bauman said, "but I think she had a good time."

Support for missing dog is appreciated

To the editor,

On Tuesday, July 5, our dog, Ginger, got loose from the fence at our house. We live on the corner of First and Jackson streets in Auburn, near Cedar Creek and Thomas Park. It is a heartbreaking and troubling experience that I wish on no one.

I just wanted to take this chance to thank all of our neighbors, friends, family, co-workers and strangers who have taken time out of their lives to help us continue to look for our dog, Ginger. One of our neighbors has a new baby, and still her and her husband looked with both of their children until past dark to help us find Ginger on that ill-fated night.

I also want to thank the Auburn Police Department, the humane shelter and all of the local city and county veterinarian clinics in DeKalb County who have been gracious enough to take my phone calls, (even though I know they would call me if they had heard anything about Ginger). I would also like to thank The Evening Star, which has a wonderful policy of putting a "lost dog" ad in the classified ads, for free, for 10 days. People we don't even know have shown us the kind of compassion that we truly need at this time. From the people who continue to look for Ginger, to the people who made the flyers and helped us put them up across town to the joggers and walkers of the early mornings keeping an eye out, we thank you so very much for continuing to search for our darling little dog. Although we have yet to hear anything about her whereabouts, I am hoping that she will turn up somewhere.

We are offering a reward for anyone who brings Ginger home. Our dog, Ginger, is a miniature pincher. She has floppy ears, a bobbed tail and a red collar. She was last seen on North Main Street, close to Thomas Park, in Auburn. If anyone has seen Ginger, or if you know someone who has seen her, please, please call any one of the following phone numbers: Amie Bauman, 925-2656; DeKalb County Humane Society, 868-2409; Animal Care Clinic, 925-2929.

Please continue to support your local humane society. They provide a vital service to any county and their efforts should never be overlooked.

Letters To The Editor

Lost dog's owners appreciate community's help

To the editor,

I wanted to give an additional thank you to the people who called us last week to tell us that they had seen our dog. We saw her too; although she ran away again as she was spooked by our vehicle, so she is still alive and on the run.

I would also like to give a big thanks to Froggy 106.7 and their staff of radio announcers who have been gracious enough to give airtime in the search to help find our missing dog,

Letters To The Editor

7-19-2005

Ginger. It means the world to us and we have been able to reach people not only through The Evening Star and flyers, but by radio as well. Froggy radio station has been so generous and compassionate and has given us renewed hope in finding our dog. So please support Auburn and Garrett's new radio station because they truly care about our community and the people in it.

Our dog, Ginger, was last seen on Wednesday, July 13, at the DeKalb County Fairgrounds. Ginger is a miniature pinscher with floppy ears, a bobbed tail and a red collar. She is reddish-brown in color and will answer to the name of Ginger. If anyone has seen Ginger, please do not hesitate to call Arnie Bauman, 925-2656, the DeKalb County Humane Shelter, 868-2409, Auburn Animal Care Clinic, 925-2929 or the Auburn Police Department, 920-3200.

With all of our heartfelt thanks,
Todd & Amie Bauman

Family grateful for finding lost dog

To the editor:

I just wanted to let everyone know that we finally found our dog, Ginger, and she is home and doing well. She was found near the J.R. Watson School on Saturday, July 23.

I would like to give a great big thank you to Mrs. Post, who made the phone call Saturday to tell us that she had Ginger. We would also like to thank the man who helped keep her contained until we got to her.

We also appreciate the public service that the Auburn Police, The Evening Star, DeKalb County Animal Shelter and Froggy 106.7

Letters To The Editor

offered to us. Also thank you Auburn Animal Care Clinic and Auburn Hills Animal Hospital, the Auburn postal workers and all of the citizens who called us to report our dog's whereabouts. Also, we want to thank the telephone company of Auburn, who has poles that were perfect for hanging our flyers.

The events of the past few weeks have made my family aware of how much our community cares, not just about the people, but the pets as well.

Communion

(Sacrament of the Altar)

What is the sacrament of the Altar? : It is the true body of our Lord Jesus Christ under the bread and wine, given unto us Christians to eat and to drink, as it was instituted by Christ himself.

Where is it written so? : The holy evangelists, Matthew, Mark and Luke together with St. Paul, write thus. : "Our Lord Jesus Christ, the same night in which he was betrayed, took bread: And when he had given thanks, He broke it and gave it to his disciples and said "Take, eat this is my body, which is given for you. This do in remembrance of me. After the same manner also. He took the cup when he had supped it gave thanks and gave it to them saying: drink ye all of it this cup is the New Testament in My blood, which is shed for you for the remission of sins:

this do, as often as ye drink it, in remembrance of Me.

Its Names

The sacrament is called
1. The Sacrament of the Altar Because it is administered at the Altar. 2. The Lords supper, because it was instituted by the Lord while the disciples were eating the passover supper.

3. The table of the Lord because the Lord here gives food and drink to our souls.

4. The Communion, because it is a communion of believers with Christ, a communion of believers with one another.

5. The Eucharist, a name derived from a Greek word meaning to give thanks, because the administration of the Lord's supper is attended with thanksgiving.

Earthly Elements :

Bread and the wine

The bread is unleaven meaning that there is no yeast and the wine is made up of grape wine.

Because you mean so much.

You are my mother, you mean so much. You are my right-hand-man, you are my crutch. You've always been there to hold my hand, you're like a dream in never never land. You've always loved me, you've never lied & when I was sad, on your shoulder I cried. When I was a baby I remember your touch, And why you ask? Because you mean so much.

✧ Happy Birthday ✧

Mom, -

Well, another year in our lives has passed. isn't it amazing that through it all - good times & bad we have managed to stick together! I know now that I shouldn't take a lot of things for granite, like life. Now that I know how it is to lose someone you love. you make sure to let your other loved ones know that they are loved. So, Mother, I love you. I always have & I always will.

I also want to wish you the happiest of all Birthdays. I hope in the year to come, our relationship grows even more. I need you. I care about you & most of all I love you. Never forget that.

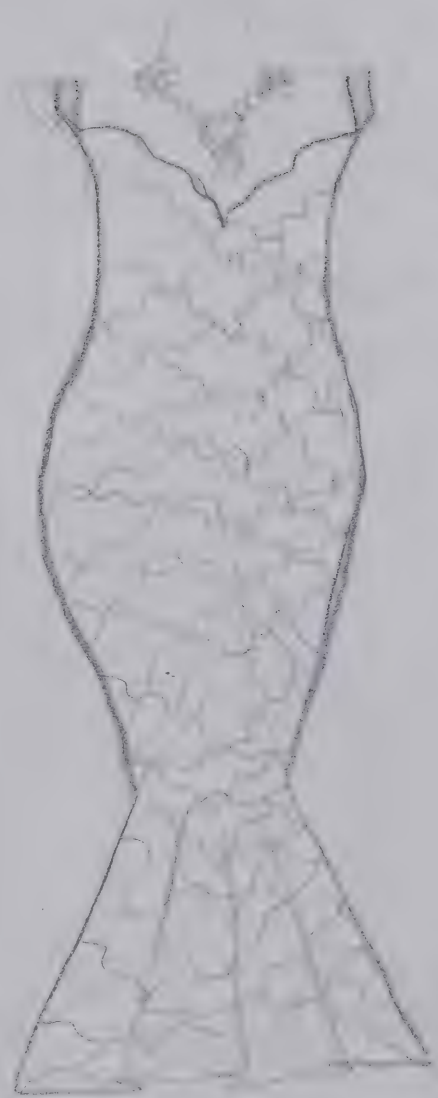

- Happy Birthday Mom -

I love you! Love Always & forever.

Mom,

Feb. 3, 1993
1824wooded.

Hi - Gosh, I want really get to see you until Sunday at 6:00 or 7:00. I know I will get home sick & I know I will miss you VERY much. Sometimes I can't stand being away from you. I haven't left yet & already I am missing you. I want to start getting close again. I don't ever want to lose our relationship, you are very Special to me & I love you very much.

I know that when I go to Holland that I will be VERY homesick & I will call you once a week & you call me once a week. It will be a great experience for me but you will always be in the back of my mind & always be in my heart. You have always been a great mom & in our times of need - we make a great team - But we have always made a great team. I can't tell you how much you mean to me but believe me it is A LOT.

I will miss you very much this weekend & I already look forward to Sunday at 6-7:00, when I get to see you again.

I'm always thinking about you.

My undying love Always, B

Marilyn Monroe Marilyn Monroe was one of the prettiest, friendliest and most saddest person in Hollywood.

She was a very troubled person in her last moments of her life.

SP. Marilyn had married many times and the only man that really did love her was Joe DiMaggio, although she would not admit it, he was the only one who came to identify her dead body.

We should give Marilyn a lot of credit for holding on for as long as she could. To many people Marilyn's death was a real mystery, did she commit suicide or did the mob of John F. Kennedy get her?

two words

Marilyn Monroe will never be forgotten, her heart, soul and little beauty will be with us forever.

Psychiatric evaluation....
Notes on Marilyn Monroe.

This is very good, Amy, but you need to proofread and check for mistakes.

* 1st day of evaluation: Tense, and uneasy feeling talking to me. They have her on pills to go to sleep and pills to wake her up. Just got done making the movie "The first ball" she says not the greatest movie she has been in yet. She is worried about New Year's Eve, if she will have another break down during the party given in her honor. Does not want to be pressured to be the dumb blond sex symbol everybody expects her to be. She also talks about her mother dying in an air accident and asked if that would be any affect on her. She also worries about the hereditary disease "paranoid schizophrenia" and wondered herself if she would in fact be a part of the family heritage.

* January 3, 1951: Would say this year has been hell for Marilyn, movies made, "Don't Look Back", "A Ticket to Tomahawk", "The Asphalt Jungle", "All about me" and "Night cross". She also talks about one of the earliest and most disturbing memories was that

Of her grand mother pressing a pillow down on her face, shortly after the deranged woman was finally committed to a state hospital. During her childhood she went through many foster homes, in most of which she was made to feel unwanted and scorned.

* In a series of tests I did, I found Marilyn to be below average while taking tests in elementary levels. They had given her so many drugs prior to that I was unable of knowing if she was below average or not. She has been depressed lately, she has told me about many affairs she has had with some of the leading men of Hollywood and how they promised her the world but at the same time are using her.
Shortly after she married to Joe DiMaggio,
a man who could provide a silent strength, she divorced him. A few months after the divorce she met Arthur Miller, she then proceeded to move in with him. She then made the movie "The misfits" which she feels deals with her overall personality.

* January 7, 1954 - These last 2 years have had a very rocky road for Marilyn. She has been having to be in the hospital more times than ever. Some of the movies made in 1951 are "Niagara" "Gentlemen prefer Blondes" "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying" all of which she was portrayed as a ditty blond. Her self-confidence has increased a little but one flaw and she could be starting by scratch.

* Notes on the death of Marilyn Monroe. A few months before her unfortunate death she would often yell and she would quarrel with the camera men and then she would apologize. Although she had taken a very large amount of Miltabital, the chemical analysis of her autopsy revealed not only the expected Miltabital and Chloralhydrate or "knockout drops" she had been taking, but, the presence of burns in her mouth and her digestive tract and fat acting poison in her stomach. Also found out she was not only chemically addicted to drugs, she was also psychologically. The police at a high refused to name the powder found in Marilyn. Even more astounding was that in the

Of the telephone company's tape recording of her outgoing call on the night of her death. This indicated a ~~call~~ ^{man} ~~made~~ ^{made} to someone who ~~she~~ ^{she} ~~called~~ ^{called}.
She died with the telephone in her hand.

Why? Life - it's a process
It's not about what it would be.
It's about how it will be. A normal life. No rebellion. No life. No rebellion. No rebellion. - Rebellion - life. No rebellion. No rebellion. No rebellion.
NO REBELLION

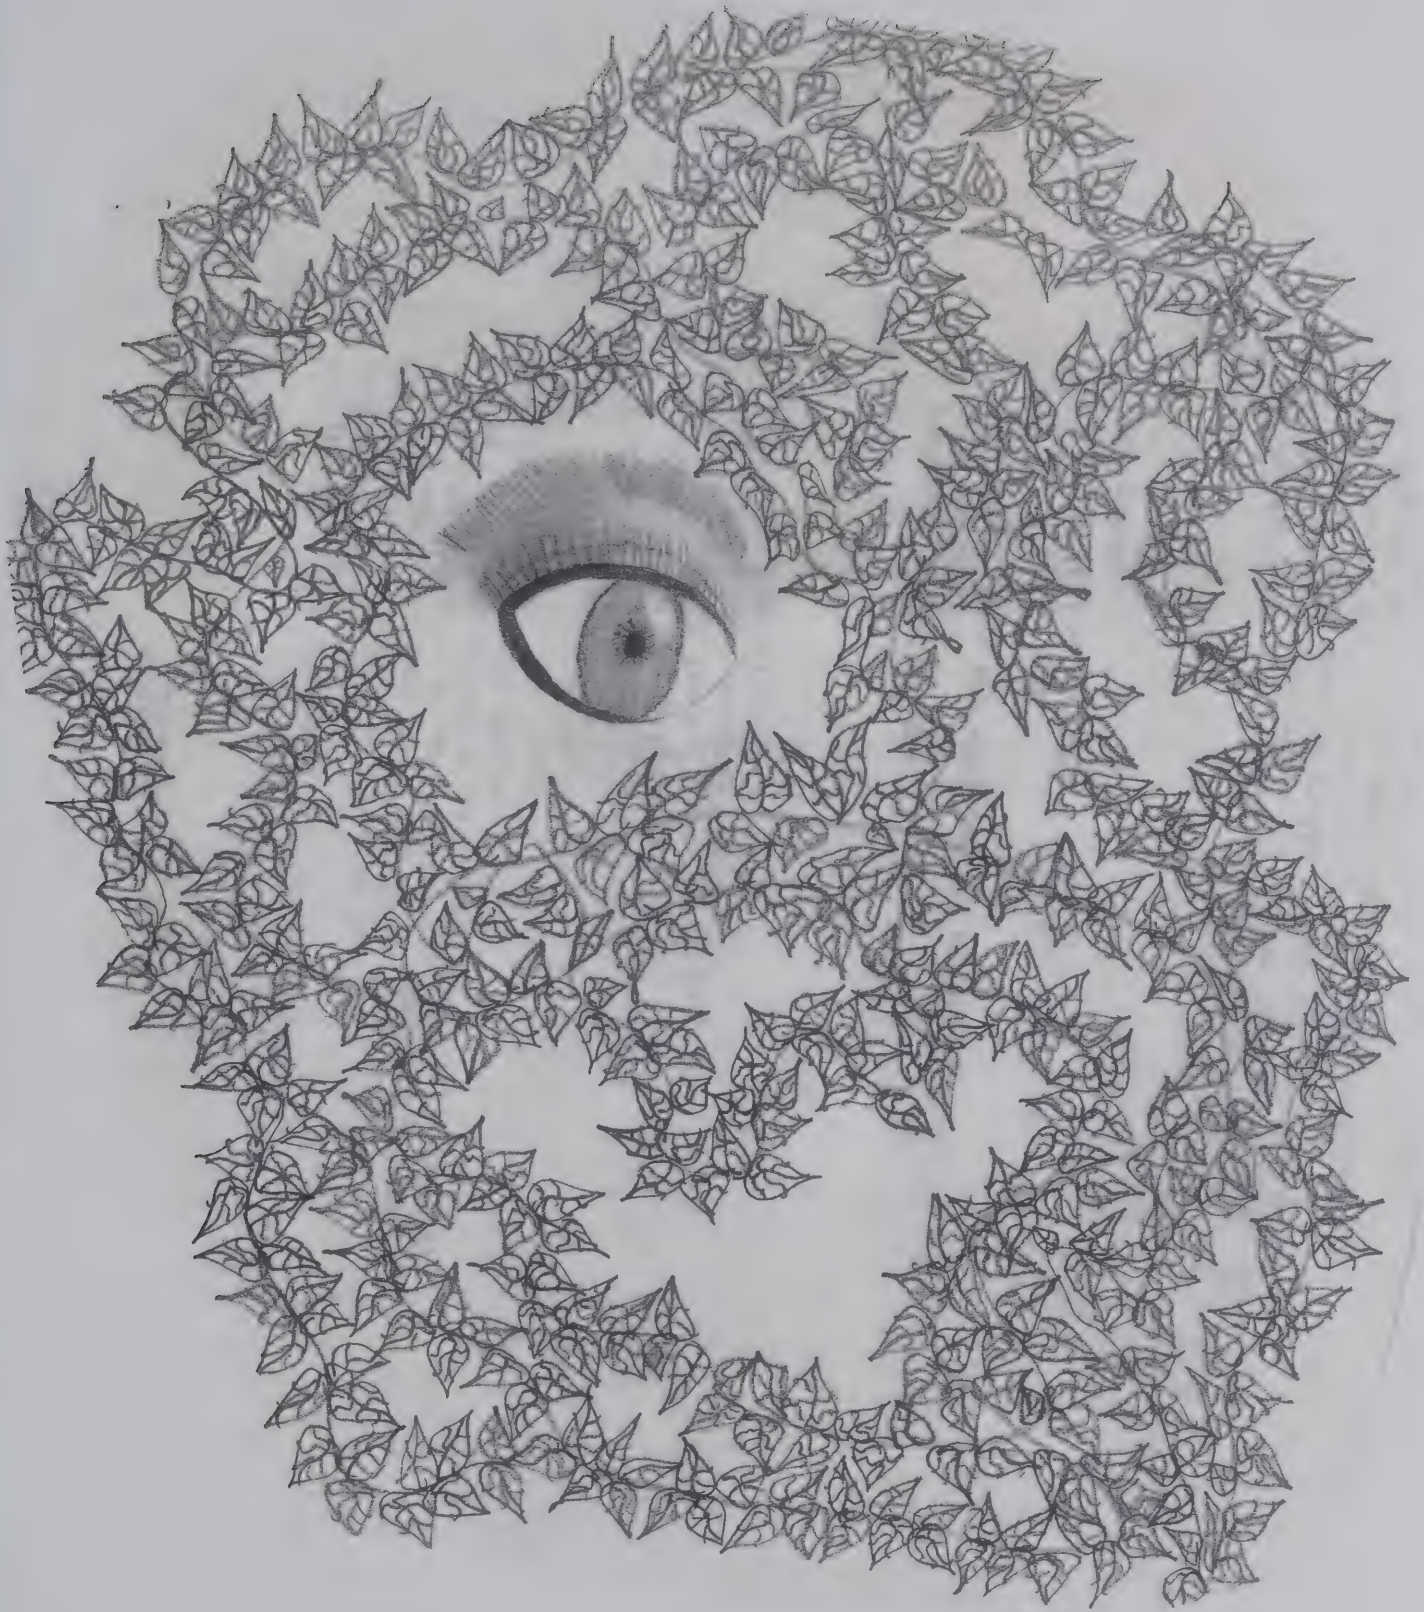

Great

3. Well, this is a... growth because it does so and all of the things that it's doing... because nothing would be able to grow if there is nothing to grow from.
nothing to eat then what is the point of staying there? And if a person wants to make a living by growing things, they can't just stay there. They can't just stay there. They can't just stay there.
